- 2. The indicated allowability of claims 24-35 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference to Bergeron et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,425,751). Rejections based on the newly cited reference follow.
- 3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claim 24, 25, 28, and 35 are rejected under 35
U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bergeron et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,425,751).

Bergeron discloses an apparatus for molding blocks. The apparatus comprises a plurality of side walls (32) defining a mold cavity (24) having an open top (36) and an open mold bottom (38). 1). A pallet (16) having a flat surface temporarily closes the entire open bottom of the mold cavity (see Fig. 1).

As can be seen in Figs. 4 and 5, one of the side walls includes an undercut adjacent the open mold bottom, the undercut being formed underneath a projecting portion (82) that is formed in the vertical side wall. Thus, the undercut and a portion of the flat surface of the pallet define a flange-forming subcavity that forms a flange structure on the resultant block (note shape of molded blocks in Figs. 2 and 3).

Bergeron further discloses the mold assembly to include a stripper shoe (58) having a face that comprises a pattern (see Fig. 1). The stripper shoe is introduced into the mold cavity through an open top of the mold to press the patterned face of the stripper shoe onto the concrete being molded in the cavity (see Fig. 1).

Bergeron still further discloses the mold assembly to comprise a plurality of cavities that operate with a single pallet to mold a plurality of blocks at the same time (see for example, Fig. 1).

- 5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere

 Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
 - 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 - 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 - Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 - Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
- 7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicants are advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 26, 27, 62, and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C.

103(a) as being unpatentable over Bergeron in view of Woolford

(U.S. Pat. No. 5,249,950).

Bergeron discloses the block molding apparatus as described above, notably including a stripper shoe with a pattern to be imparted upon the molded block. Bergeron does not disclose the pattern to specifically be as such to simulate natural stone, or comprise a flange as recited in claims 26, 27, and 63. The pattern of the stripper shoe, however, is merely indicative of the pattern to be imparted to the molded block, and hence, a matter of design choice. Correspondingly, Woolford notes in disclosing a stipper shoe assembly that the pattern can take any number of designs or forms such as ornamentation or structural features consistent with the block to be formed within the mold (cl. 3, 11, 41-44). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to have modified the stripper shoe to include a flange or natural stone pattern because the shape of the pattern is a design choice simply based upon the desire features to be imparted upon the molded block as suggested by Woolford.

- 9. Claims 29-34 and 64 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- 10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Donald Heckenberg whose telephone number is (571) 272-1131. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday from 9:30 A.M. to 6:00 P.M.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Duane Smith, can be reached at (571) 272-1166. The official fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (571) 273-8300.
